Iowa: Love Is Hate; Dysgenics in Evidence

The National Alliance Love Your Race fliers have but a single message, a single line: "Love Your Race" — and nothing else. That simple yet profound message, and the National Alliance url, received more exposure this month in Iowa and Illinois when controlled media outlet Our Quad Cities and CBS television affiliate WHBF published an almost unbelievably incompetent denunciation of the fliers, which continue to be distributed in the area. There were five egregious errors of English usage in the short article, and a couple of the sentences were so garbled it was difficult to know what was meant.

You really have to see the video of this newscast (which you can do by accessing natall.com/hysteria) to believe the near-hysterical fear and shocking stupidity on display.

The announcer, who looks like he's had a recent lobotomy, introduces us to a coed airhead who received a copy of our flier. Both of them say little else beyond how "shocked" and "angered" they are. They refer to our flier's message again and again as "hate" — with a full picture of the flier saying only "Love Your Race" nearly filling the screen for some time. Although many thousands of our fliers have been distributed in the area, they were apparently able to locate only one person willing to denounce us.

Many in the WHBF audience may indeed be even duller than the incompetent liars who run the news department there, and fall for the transparent anti-White hatred they spew. But we wouldn't want to recruit from that end of the bell curve anyway. Discerning thinkers, who can tell when they're being manipulated, will investigate the National Alliance for themselves, and some of those higher-quality men and women will be inspired to join us.

Here's part of what WHBF/Our Quad Cities had to say:

Bettendorf, Iowa - It was not the type of Christmas cheer some expected to find this week in Bettendorf. Another batch of National Alliance fliers was found on several people's property in the Pigeon Creek neighborhood December 23 and Christmas Eve. That's just blocks away from the Pleasant View Elementary School on the east side of the city.

The Southern Poverty Law Center says the group is classified as a neo-Nazi and anti-Semitic organization.

Local Four News has been following this story since the fliers first started appearing in August 2017. In 2018, they were found in Moline and another location in Bettendorf.

Local Four News spoke with one of the people to find those fliers Sunday night. Emily Paul was visiting with friends in the area, returning home from college. "Especially with the timing, the only word I can think of is disgusting. The time they found it was about Christmas Eve, so to kind to come in with this Christmas spirit and almost ruin it in that way with such hate, it's just disgusting.... The more aware people are, the more they know and the more they can fight it almost, so it's just really important to not stay quiet or to shrug it off," said Paul. "To report the things and to stand up because it's not just minorities that are affected, it's everyone that's connected and has a connection within family or friends.

"To have this hate in our community, I just think there's zero room for it, and it seems like this isn't the first time it's happened either, which is also very angering because I know these flyers have been passed out. Recently at Pleasant Valley High School, I'm an alumni there, there was an almost hate crime there," Paul said.

There was an "almost hate crime" at Miss Emily's high school alma mater? — and the National Alliance Love Your Race fliers were distributed "just blocks from an elementary school"? Slow news day in Bettendorf?

Back in the 1990s, an Alliance member purchased 100 Saga of White Will comic books. He mailed them to a list of honor students at Chapel Hill High School in North Carolina. The local television stations in the Raleigh/Durham/Chapel Hill area made a big deal out of the mailing when a few people complained. A reporter interviewed a professor of psychology, supposedly a "renowned expert" on "extremism," who said, "The reason groups like the National Alliance are dangerous is because they come across as seemingly rational." Seemingly? Really? A gratifying percentage of those 100 bright young scholars, who actually had the National Alliance's literature in hand, found the pro-White message therein quite rational. The White protagonist White Will wins!

As H.L. Mencken said, "The majority of men prefer delusion to truth. It soothes. It is easy to grasp. Above all, it fits more snugly than the truth into a universe of false appearances..." We in the Alliance are looking for the few whose minds are not so limited, and whose sense of responsibility will not allow them to do nothing when evil men threaten their children's future. But unless you do your part, every day, there are many we will never reach.

Cosmotheist Books

Internet takedowns of pirated editions of our copyrighted books have been successful this month and will no doubt be ongoing as additional bootleg editions being sold around the world are identified.

We still have not found a single credit card-processing service that will serve our book store, but have applied with several more of them during December. It is clear to all who have an interest that we are illegally blacklisted across this vital service industry. Meanwhile, to repeat: In order to work around the censors, books can still be ordered from our site either by using regular postal mail for payment — or by paying with cryptocurrency (which is still fully supported on the site). A large order came in on 31 December from a new member, paying with cryptocurrency.

We continue to add titles to our store. The new books listed this month include: The Blond Knight of Germany, a biography of Erich Hartmann by Toliver and Constable; The Dynamics of War and Revolution by Lawrence Dennis; Adolf Hitler's Mein Kampf (Manheim translation — one must skip the introduction by ADL Jew Abe Foxman, saying the book is “wretched,” “written by a madman,” in order to get the best translation of Hitler’s work now extant); The Talmud Unmasked by Pranaitis; By Way of Deception by Ostrovsky (hardback); Facts Are Facts by Benjamin Freedman; and Werewolf, about the National Socialist Resistance, by Whiting.

Also we have found and listed several more rare copies of the red-covered Did Six Million Really Die? (banned on Amazon.com), as well as a very few copies of the rarest and most desirable edition of Dr. Revilo P. Oliver’s America’s Decline, the one with the beautifully-written foreword by Sam Dickson.

When we first launched Cosmotheist Books online, we were offering just eight titles. We now bring the total number of our offerings to 56, despite the blacklisting. We will continue adding important and valuable titles to our site. Members should continue to spread links to our sites and our store — and let our people know we are very much in business.

Correspondence

Dear Chairman Williams, Solstice greetings! Enclosed are two checks, one for $720 for the three listed members’ dues, in advance, for 2019. The other for $35 is for Might Is Right and the Power of Truth, Volume 7 CD. A small donation for Jim Mathias’s Defense Fund will soon be sent to the new PO Box along with a Life Rune plaque that we New England Alliance members wish him to have as a small token of our appreciation for his unceasing activism for our cause. — J.M., Massachusetts

Dear Chairman Williams: Enclosed is a check for $220 for six months’ dues through July 2019, and $100 for your legal expenses. Yes, you stand and fight legal matters to the end! — R.L., Ohio

Chairman Williams: My Member/Supporter

Survey is enclosed. Thank you for accepting my application into the National Alliance. After discovering videos of Dr. Pierce on the Internet quite by accident, I found myself getting more and more immersed in his vision and now want to share that vision as best I can with other White people. As a father of three, the one wish that I have for my children is that they may inherit a better world. And one of the ways of doing that is educating them (and others) about propagating the White race, pointing out to them the false and dangerous beliefs that lead to miscegenation, drug and alcohol use, and anything else alien to normalcy that the Jews are making out to be “okay” through their slimy mass media. I hope to prove myself as a useful member of the National Alliance and I pledge to do my best to help grow the membership in our unrivaled organization. Best regards, — M.B., New Jersey

Will: The wheel has turned and we’ve come to another Yule Season with you and National Alliance still surviving. I salute you for your strength and efforts in keeping Dr. Pierce’s dream alive. All the best to you and yours in the New Year. May it bring us one step closer to victory and a Whiter and brighter world. 14 Words, — Richard Scutari, #34840-080 FCI Mendota, PO Box 9, Mendota, California 93640

Dear National Office: I was going to purchase a few books the other day from our online store, until I got to the payment options. Are you guys not accepting Visa or PayPal? I only saw the option for bitcoin and such.

Also, are there any conferences planned in 2019? I would enjoy listening to a speech in person, and maybe I would bring my father; he’s starting to acknowledge the truth of what is going on... I live north of the Washington/Idaho border. If there is anything like that going on around that area I’d be especially interested. Thanks again, and great job guys! I am proud of everyone that makes this engine turn. Great articles on national-vanguard.org. Very well written. Never a dull read or listen. — K.L., Canada (via email)

Dear Chairman Williams: I ran out of the elegant two-color National Alliance business cards already. $30 enclosed for 500 more. Keep the change for the cause. Thanks, — R.R., Washington

Chairman Williams responds: Thank you, RR. I'll introduce you to K.L., who lives just a few miles north of you. Great things happen when two Alliance members get together in the same area for the first time — as I'm sure will happen when O.C. in Louisiana (below) eventually gets his Christmas wish.

Dear Chairman Williams — As of this date [18 December] the November BULLETIN has not arrived. I hope that it was not lost in the mail. Perhaps it was delayed due to more important Alliance business you must attend to... For Christmas all I want is to have another Alliance member or supporter who lives near me to operate with. And I wish the same for every other member who is alone and isolated! Merry Christmas, — O.C., Louisiana

Chairman Williams: Considering recent developments, the moving of Dr. Pierce's library and research center to Tennessee seems to me like a very good idea. Now and in the future it can be watched over and put to everyday good use. Besides, with the library and all important material in Tennessee you won't have to keep going back to West Virginia and deal with the [expletive deleted] neighbors and all of the legal problems they throw at you. Good! The Hillsboro setup suited Dr. Pierce but the location, a desolate place actually, is not very practical for most people to visit. I attended a couple of Leadership Conferences in WV when Erich Gliebe was Chairman. The mile-long drive in was rough! There was no presence of security and I was told then that nobody lived there anymore. I couldn't see the warning signs of impending demise at the time. I was fooled; I had no idea! Gliebe's selling of Dr. Pierce's well-equipped shop, tools, and his library a little later were the red flags I could finally see. Thank you, Chairman Williams, for saving the Alliance. I am willing to go up to Hillsboro to help in maintaining the property. — R.S., Virginia

Commentary by Chairman William White Williams

Workers Needed

R.S. in Virginia (whose letter to the National Office you see immediately above) was put in touch with Jay Hess at our West Virginia campus. Jay appreciates his offer to help. As this BULLETIN goes to press on New Year's Day, two other volunteers have been helping Jay with some necessary heavy lifting for the past couple of days.

Volunteer help in West Virginia from our members and supporters is much appreciated and vital when we are so short-staffed. Our members and supporters should keep volunteering to help when able and so inclined.

Full-time Staffer Wanted

A full-time staffer is needed in Tennessee. The Alliance now has its fifty-acre wooded parcel that requires more help than I and casual local labor can handle. A couple of members have expressed interest in relocating to Laurel Bloomery, Tennessee — but so far no one had made a commitment.

The man we need will undertake to accomplish whatever is needed — but at first his duties will mostly be chainsawing, brush clearing and burning, and fence-building. Pioneer work! In good time the concrete forms, scaffolding, mortar mixer, and a few other construction tools that we used in West Virginia will be moved to Tennessee and used in the construction of our new building here.

This person must be a self-starter; fit, sober, disciplined, willing to work long hours for modest salary, and know how to get things done. He must have a valid driver's license — and it won't hurt to be an idealistic bibliophile who hunts, fishes, is good in the woods, and has a mechanical aptitude. We will likely move an RV onto the land for this person to live in temporarily during construction, but there is other housing to get us through the winter months. We have plenty of indoor work for when it's too cold or wet to work outside. This is a rare opportunity to work full-time for the National Alliance while living in and enjoying our mountain paradise. An all-terrain vehicle (ATV) is provided, and we are looking at the possible purchase of small Bobcat loader/hoe.

TOP: Here we see some of the scaffolding and concrete forms we've used in earlier construction work in storage at our West Virginia campus. They will be reused in the building of our new facilities in Tennessee. BOTTOM: Jay Hess is seen here moving some of the concrete forms with one of the Alliance's 4x4 pickup trucks.

Working for the Alliance: Some History

Dr. William Pierce, the founder of the Alliance, invited me to come work with him at the end of 1991, after I'd gone to West Virginia with an Alliance friend in July and met with him for the first time.

We stayed on the mountain for a couple of days, helping Dr. Pierce with some labor, and hit it off like long-lost friends. Dr. Pierce was alone there with his wife Sue at the time; there was no staff. I couldn't believe that great man had no helpers.

Kevin Strom relocated to West Virginia in October of 1991 and produced the very first of his hundreds of American Dissident Voices radio shows at the end of December — the same week I had begun relocating there, in the middle of a snowstorm. I took up residence in the farmhouse and began my work.

Dr. Pierce finally had the beginnings of a committed core staff, with me as the Alliance's first Membership Coordinator and with Kevin as Media Director. That's when fortunes began to change for Alliance-building. It wasn't long before other members — Fred Streed, Joe and Patti Pryce, et al. — were invited to come to the National Office and be on staff. Soon hundreds of new members were joining the Alliance.

Here is Dr. Pierce's 1991 letter inviting me to come to West Virginia and work with him:

Will, you've got it made down there in Tennessee on your homestead, reading, writing, hiking, raising German shepherds, painting portraits, but you really ought to be up here helping me because the Jew and his collaborators still live.

I did have it made. But how could I say no to William Pierce when he put it to me like that? I told him I'd give him two years of my life, no matter what comes our way during those two years. I was 45 then; he was 57. That's what he needed to hear. He had given me copies of Which Way Western Man? and Best of Attack! and National Vanguard and the three Cosmotheist booklets during our July visit, so I was thoroughly immersed in his world view and teachings by the time I'd arrived in West Virginia. I still had a lot to learn from him, and did, and still do.

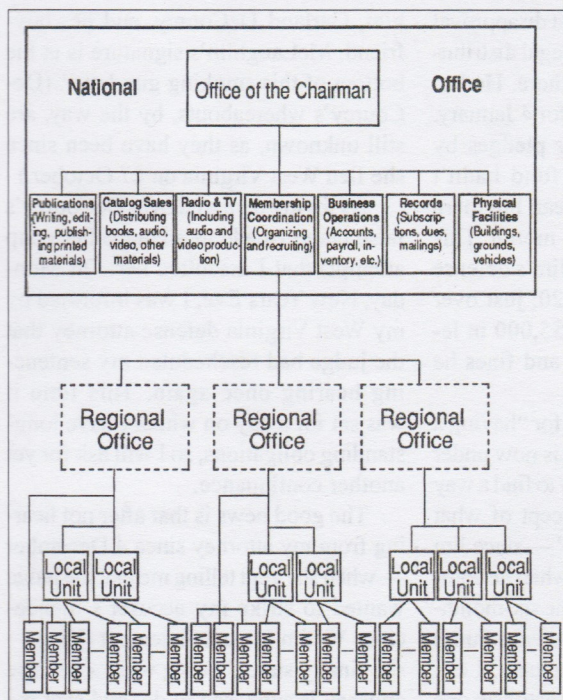

So now I need a helper. One like I describe above — a dedicated Alliance member who sees the opportunity to work full-time for the cause and has the wherewithal to relocate to upper east Tennessee.

What Is to be Done?

The following words of William Pierce, written forty years ago, give us his fundamental vision for the National Alliance. This vision is still held today by those who know we must build a new community of tens of thousands, who will themselves build a whole new society, ultimately consisting of millions of White men and women — a society that will be based on William Pierce's Cosmotheist teachings. That future depends, for now, on a few score of committed, dues-paying Alliance members. That's okay. The few score will be here when the tens of thousands are ready to commit to Dr. Pierce's vision for Alliance-building.

[A]n organization must be built which satisfies the following requirements:

It must be, first of all, not an ad hoc organization, but an organization based on fundamental principles, an organization with a world view, essentially religious in nature [think Cosmotheism], shared by every member of the organization.

It must be, in structure, a hierarchical organization, like an army — or a religious order — with the degree of understanding, of commitment, and of discipline increasing with the level of responsibility in the organization.

It must be, in scope, an all-encompassing organization, an organization which not only generates propaganda and which recruits and trains new members, but which becomes eventually a community unto itself, self-sufficient spiritually and materially, providing all the functions and capabilities needed for carrying out its task — ultimately a separate state within the state.

And it must be an organization which, in time, incorporates within itself the best elements of our people, developing from this elite minority a majority of will and determination, so that, at an exceptional moment, sufficient historical leverage can be exerted by the organization to effect a permanent change, in the desired direction, in the course of history.

Forty years ago Dr. Pierce was working to balance his newly founded Cosmotheist Community Church, which was and is essentially religious in nature and attracted one sort of follower, with the National Alliance, a revolutionary-minded political organization and publishing house that attracted a different sort. Though there was considerable overlap of the two types of followers, they had not fully merged into the one organization he had envisioned, one in which every Alliance member shares the same Cosmotheist world view. Most join the Alliance and slowly come to share Dr. Pierce's vision, as I did and as Kevin Strom did; as new member M.B. in New Jersey did, and as many others reading this commentary did.

We in the National Alliance today will strive to become the organization of like-minded Whites our founder envisioned 40 years ago, dedicated to the one purpose and the one cause that really matters.

Legal Update

The January BULLETIN will update members as to Alliance activist Jim Mathias's court adventures in east Iowa, resulting from Establishment disapproval of his and others' perfectly legal distribution of Alliance literature there. He has another hearing scheduled for 4 January.

A couple of December pledges by members to his defense fund hadn't arrived by the end of the year, but there has been $90 received this month. This brings the total donated to Jim's defense fund since August to $2,520, just over half of the approximately $5,000 in legal expenses, court costs, and fines he incurred in his first trial.

Jim's felony conviction for "having a firearm on school grounds" is now under appeal, as the prosecutors try to find a way to justify their bizarre concept of what constitutes "school grounds" — since Jim was nowhere near a school when he committed this alleged felony. The six-month-long JMDF (Jim Mathias Defense Fund) drive ends at the end of January. Let's show Jim our support for his activism one more time this month. Send donations to our Tennessee address, earmarked JMDF.

National Alliance attorneys in Virginia perfected the counterclaim against the estate of John McLaughlin with additional filings. Counsel for McLaughlin's brothers (his estate's co-administrators and counterclaim defendants), filed their answer by the 19 December deadline, asking for proof of our counterclaim. We have plenty of proof that John breached his fiduciary duty as a director — for example, the four-page letter in April of 2016 to the attorney for the NARRG grouplet (who were using their $2,000,000 lawsuit against us as a means of seizing Alliance assets and putting us into receivership), telling him how his NARRG clients should join forces with him, Garland DeCourcy, and her boyfriend. McLaughlin's signature is at the bottom of this smoking gun letter. (DeCourcy's whereabouts, by the way, are still unknown, as they have been since she fled West Virginia on 27 October.)

As for my own trial over DeCourcy's false claim (made to advance her coup attempt) that I assaulted her: On Monday, New Years Eve, I was informed by my West Virginia defense attorney that the judge had rescheduled my sentencing hearing once again. This time it was set for a day on which I have longstanding obligations, so I will ask for yet another continuance.

The good news is that after not hearing from my attorney since 4 December — when she kept telling me that the judge wanted to strike my accuser's mendacious Victim Impact Statement (VIS) — she finally started doing what a defense attorney is supposed to do, and sent me three motions for review, based on my instructions: 1) my Motion To Unseal Ex Parte Communications (These ex parte communications are improper notes sent by my accuser to the judge, that had been improperly sealed without my knowledge.); 2) my Motion for a New Trial; and 3.) my Motion for Hearing Regarding Victim Impact Statement. The third motion ends with: "Defendant requests that a hearing be scheduled prior to sentencing in this matter at which time he might have the opportunity to confront his accuser regarding the matters contained in the victim impact statement." Confronting my accuser, under oath, in court, could be quite difficult without the complainant, Garland "me too" DeCourcy, anywhere to be found.
